Annual GAA conference draws a global audience

Since its inception in 2001, no aquaculture conference has been as successful as the Global Aquaculture Alliance's annual GOAL conference at connecting producers and suppliers to the marketplace to discuss the major challenges and opportunities facing responsible aquaculture.

GOAL 2016 — which took place at the White Swan Hotel (<http://www.whiteswanhotel.com/en>) in Guangzhou, China, from Sept. 19 to 22, 2016 — featured more than 400 seafood professionals from 30 countries worldwide.

GOAL 2017 will be held at historic Croke Park (<https://crokepark.ie>) in Dublin, Ireland, from Oct. 3 to 6, 2017. To register, visit the GOAL 2017 webpage (<https://www.aquaculturealliance.org/goal/>). GOAL 2017 is expected to sell out.
